FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

PRESS ADVISORY

RIBBON CUTTING ZAKI HOSSAIN CENTER FOR HYPERTENSION, DIABETES AND VASCULAR DISEASE AT NUMC

WHAT: Opening of the Zaki Hossain Center for Hypertension, Diabetes and Vascular Disease at Nassau University Medical Center. This center will be the hub of clinical and educational activities, advancing the care of Nassau County residents who suffer from the intertwined epidemics of hypertension, diabetes and vascular disease.

WHO: Arthur A. Gianelli, President/CEO, Nassau Health Care Corporation
NHCC Board of Directors
State and County Officials
Zaki Hossain
NUMC Clinical staff

WHEN: Tuesday, April 29, 2008 -- 11:00 AM

WHERE: Nassau University Medical Center – 6th Floor

WHY: A combination of outreach, education and clinical care will greatly benefit outpatients who suffer from various metabolic conditions by complete and timely access to clinical services and prevention program. Thanks to Mr. Hossain's generosity, the center will be the hub of clinical and educational activities and act as a partner and resources for physicians in the community.
